Documentation Introduction

Basic Layout of Documentation on the i2b2 website

On the Software page of the i2b2 website (http://www.i2b2.org/software) there is a section called "Documentation". Within this section there is an image of a hive and attached to each cell you will find the available documentation specific to the cell.

When you hover over a cell a pop-up menu will appear listing all the documentation available for that cell.
