ABSTRACT

This is a software architecture document for the CRC (Clinical Research Chart) cell. It identifies and explains the important architectural elements. This document will serve the needs of stake holders to understand the system concepts and give a brief summary of the use of the CRC message format.