Configuration Management

The WORK system is transactional, leveraging the transaction management model of the J2EE platform.