

Response

The response must include a `<response_header>` tag which includes general information about the response such as status and error messages or where to look for the results if they are not included with the response.