How ontologies are used to build queries

An ontology term's metadata entry provides information to the CRC on how to build a query for that term. Click here to learn more about query building