INTRODUCTION -

This document describes the requirements, technical functionality and intended capabilities of the Workplace. It is to be used as a guideline and continuing reference as the developers write the code.